Introduction

This issue encourages staff to become an antibiotic guardian and provides a link to a Scottish Government press release on support for NHS whistleblowers.

European Antibiotic Awareness Day – 18 November 2015

Antibiotic resistance is one of the biggest threats facing modern medicine.

Chairman, Andrew Robertson along with Health Secretary, Shona Robison today pledged to be an Antibiotic Guardian – a scheme run by a joint UK initiative to encourage everyone to make their own personal pledge.

To take the pledge now, visit: http://antibioticguardian.com/

Scottish Government press release

Click here to read – Support for NHS whistleblowers.