Volunteering Policy

“Volunteering is the giving of time and energy through a third party, which can bring measurable benefits to the volunteer, individual beneficiaries, groups/organisations, communities, environment and society at large. It is a choice undertaken of one’s own free will, and is not motivated primarily by financial gain or for wage or salary”.

Scottish Executive Volunteering Strategy (2004)

NHS Greater Glasgow and Clyde (NHSGGC) recognises, values and supports the important part volunteers play in the life and work of the Board and the wider community.

The achievement of the goals of the organisation is best served by the active participation of members of the community. NHSGGC accepts and encourages the involvement of volunteers at all levels in the organisation and within all appropriate activities.

NHSGGC expects that each Director of an operational unit will ensure they have in place appropriate and effective arrangements to implement and monitor this policy.

1. Purpose

The Volunteering Policy is:

- To formally acknowledge and support the role of volunteers.
- To set out the principles governing the involvement of volunteers and provide a set of procedures to ensure good working practice.
- To define the roles, rights and responsibilities of the organisation and of its volunteers.
- To encourage and enable, rather than limit, the involvement of volunteers from socially diverse backgrounds.

The Volunteering Policy and accompanying procedures are intended primarily for use by NHSGGC employees and volunteers. A commitment to the principles contained in it would also be expected from voluntary organisations whose volunteers provide help within NHSGGC. However, the Board respects the independence of these voluntary organisations and recognises that they are responsible for the management of volunteers working on specific projects.

2. Implementation

To implement this Policy the Board will:

- Ensure that volunteers' work complements the work of paid staff and that it will not be used as a substitute for paid work.
- Ensure that volunteers are appropriately managed and supervised.
- Ensure that staff at all levels are clear about the role of volunteers and foster good working relationships between staff and volunteers,
- Provide training and support for those working alongside and managing volunteers.
- Aim to meet the Investors in Volunteers standards as evidence of effective arrangements for volunteering.

3. Background

In June 1998 the Scottish Office Management Executive circulated Guidance to Health Boards on Volunteering in the NHS (MEL(1998)42) requiring Health Boards, in partnership with NHS Trusts, primary care providers and other relevant agencies to:

- draw up a Policy Statement on NHS Volunteering in their area
- co-ordinate, monitor and support the development of these services and
- nominate a Director with responsibility for the oversight and development of volunteering

In January 2000 further Guidance (MEL(2000)4) requested Trusts to develop a Policy to implement their NHS Board's Volunteering policy.

The Scottish Compact and associated Good Practice Guides (1998 and 2000 respectively) sought to establish and develop partnership working between the Scottish Executive and the Voluntary Sector. In 2004, the Scottish Executive produced a revised Scottish Compact and its associated Implementation Strategy, "The Scottish Compact: Developing our Relationship with the Voluntary Sector". This revised framework provided a strengthened and renewed commitment to achieving an open and participative working relationship between the Scottish Executive, its Agencies and Non-Departmental Public Bodies and the Voluntary Sector in Scotland. The Compact is based on shared values: A Democratic Society, Active Citizenship, Inclusiveness and Equality.

The Scottish Executive issued a Volunteering Strategy in 2004 drawing on exhaustive research and extensive consultation. The strategy sets out how the Scottish Executive will work with the voluntary, public and private sectors to provide opportunities so that anyone who wants to volunteer can do so readily. Moreover ensuring that volunteering is valued and recognised as a force for good and a force for change, and to ensure that volunteers are supported and encouraged in every possible way.

The Refreshed Strategy for Volunteering in the NHS in Scotland was issued in 2008. This reinforces the existing commitments and the need for robust infrastructure and management arrangements to support volunteers, along with a requirement that all boards achieve the Investors in Volunteers standard by March 2011.

4. The Role and Value of Volunteering

NHSGGC acknowledges and values the long history of volunteer involvement in health. Whilst volunteering has traditionally been concentrated in hospital settings, there has been a significant shift to extend volunteering opportunities within local communities that would contribute to:

- the regeneration of deprived areas
- the strengthening of social networks, enhancing involvement in community life and civic activities, building trust in local areas and in society at large and producing and rebuilding a resource that is often referred to as “social capital”
- creating the conditions for health improvement

It therefore has a key role in contributing to NHSGGC’s primary purpose which is “to deliver effective and high quality health services, to act to improve the health of our population and to do everything we can to address the wider social determinants of health which cause health inequalities”.

The scope for volunteer involvement is wide and includes work carried out by volunteers both on Board premises and in the community. The impact of volunteering on volunteers themselves also contributed to public policy objectives. Volunteering can contribute to raising individual’s self-esteem and self-confidence, provide a route into employment, education or training, and is particularly beneficial in developing softer skills, such as teamwork and communication. It can help those who are experiencing difficulties in their lives such as addiction, homelessness, and mental health problems to get back on their feet and become fully integrated into communities.

Volunteers can also contribute to the development of social capital, and in so doing help support the Board in creating a Scotland which cares for its people, and where opportunities are increased for everyone.

Volunteering Procedure

1. Relationships with NHSGGC employees

NHSGGC is committed to ensuring that:

- the tasks that volunteers do complement and do not replace the work of paid employees.
- volunteers are not permitted to take on tasks formerly undertaken by paid employees or to work in ways which facilitate a decrease in paid employment.
- volunteers are not permitted to do the work of paid staff in times of industrial action. They may continue their regular duties if adequate supervision can be provided.
- steps are taken to ensure that staff at all levels and people who use the service are clear about the role of volunteers and to foster good working relationships between staff, patients, service users and volunteers.
- training and support is provided for those working alongside volunteers.
- the safety and well-being of patients, users of the service and staff is paramount. The standard of care and conduct of volunteers must be of the same high quality as that of paid staff.

Prior to recruiting volunteers, consultation and discussion must take place with representatives from the area requesting the service to ensure that there is a genuine need for volunteers and to develop a clear description of their role. All staff are encouraged to assist in the creation of appropriate, meaningful and productive roles in which volunteers might participate.

2. Recruitment and Selection

NHS Greater Glasgow and Clyde:

- will market volunteering opportunities appropriately to ensure the volunteer force actively reflects the wider community.
- will recruit volunteers from all sections of the community in line with the Equal Opportunities Policy and take positive steps to actively raise awareness and recruit volunteers from socially diverse backgrounds.
- requires all volunteers to complete an Application Form, Occupational Health check and Enhanced Disclosure prior to appointment. All volunteers must provide referees as requested.
- will place volunteers in accordance with rigorous volunteer recruitment and selection procedures and with due care and attention to the process of matching volunteers needs and service requirements.

- acknowledges the importance of social inclusion and recognises that most prospective volunteers have something of value to offer. All reasonable effort will therefore be made to find placements for everyone who offers their time and energy and have undergone the screening programme. Where there is no placement available, the volunteer will be informed of the reason and referred, where applicable, to another agency such as the local Volunteer Centre. (see Appendix 1)

3. Age Limits

There is no minimum or maximum legal age that people can give their time as volunteers. What does apply is the general law of duty of care which all members of the public are required to observe.

Volunteering by children and young people under the age of 16

Children and young people under 16 years of age can and do make a responsible and active contribution to society through volunteering and community involvement. The organisation has an enhanced duty of care to ensure they involve them in a sustainable way which ensures their safety and protection from harm.

An individual risk assessment will be undertaken in advance to assess the risks to the health and safety of the young volunteer. In addition the Protection of Children (Scotland) Act 2003: Guidance for Organisations and the Board's Child Protection Policy and Guidelines will be followed to ensure that children and young people who are volunteering are protected and appropriate safeguards are in place.

Volunteering by older people

Older volunteers should be treated as individuals, with the only measure of suitability being their capability to carry out duties in a safe manner and in line with the NHS organisations policies and procedures. Where older volunteers are no longer able to conduct their duties, consideration should be given to changing their role or redeployment elsewhere in the organisation. Where this is not possible the volunteer should be supported to retire with dignity.

4. Volunteer Driving

Volunteers are involved in a range of driving activities from individual patient transport to minibus driving. Local procedures should be developed for the recruitment and management of volunteer drivers. Appendix 2 offers guidance on the range of areas that local procedures should cover.

5. Information and Training

NHSGGC will:

- ensure that volunteers receive full information about their area of work and their role and responsibilities to the staff, users of the service and the Board. This will include information about disciplinary and grievance procedures for volunteers and about their rights and responsibilities if something goes wrong.
- provide volunteers with induction training and orientation in relation to the specific task(s) to be undertaken.
- strive to provide on-going opportunities for learning and development.
- ensure that volunteers are given the same opportunities as staff to contribute to the decision-making processes of the team and the Board as appropriate. Procedures will be put in place to enable the views of volunteers to be represented.

6. Support, Supervision and Recognition

- Each volunteer will be assigned a named contact person for supervision and support and will be given clearly specified lines of accountability.
- The role of the volunteer will be regularly reviewed to ensure that they have the necessary support, encouragement, guidance and training, if appropriate, to undertake the assigned task.

Volunteers will be expected to conduct themselves in a reasonable manner, perform their task(s) to an acceptable standard and comply with organisational policies and procedures. When this standard is not met, appropriate support will be offered. If the volunteer does not then improve sufficiently, their involvement will be reviewed in line with organisational policies.

In the case of serious breach of conduct or inability to perform agreed tasks, the organisation reserves the right to end the services of the volunteer.

On the basis of their voluntary work, volunteers may request a reference from their named contact person. Volunteers would require to have volunteered for a minimum of six months.

The work of volunteers will be recognised and acknowledged by the Board.

7. Expenses and Insurance

The Board will ensure that:

- there is a fair, consistent and transparent system for the reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses. (ref: Guidance on Reimbursement of "Out of Pocket" Expenses for Volunteers) (See Appendix 4)
- volunteers are adequately covered by insurance whilst they carry out their agreed duties both on the Board's premises and in the community.

- volunteers are given information on other legislation and policies which may affect them (e.g. Health and Safety).
- volunteers are treated in the same way as paid staff for liability purposes.

8. Expectations of Volunteers

Volunteers are expected to:

- participate in induction sessions and other training specific to the assigned task(s).
- comply with all Board policies and procedures, particularly in relation to confidentiality, accident reporting and health and safety.
- access immunisation protocols as advised and be informed of routine control of infection procedures.
- carry the Board identification badge at all times and wear as directed. (Badges should be returned on vacation of the Volunteer position).
- undertake their voluntary role at agreed times.
- inform the relevant member of staff if they are unable to attend, in advance if possible.
- give as much notice as possible if unable to continue their voluntary work.
- raise any issues of concern relating to their voluntary work with their named contact person.
- inform their named contact of any relevant changes in their health status.
- inform their named contact in advance of all holidays and breaks.

9. Indirect volunteers

The Board expects that volunteer-involving organisations providing a service to the NHS (e.g. WRVS, Radio Lollipop, Chest, Heart & Stroke Association) will have volunteering policies which adopt similar standards to those outlined in this Policy and Procedure.

10. Funding

NHSGGC recognises that, whilst developing volunteer involvement is an investment with significant benefits, there are many associated costs, including staff time.

Within relevant budgets, the Board will fund the costs associated with volunteering - marketing, recruitment, selection, training, education and support - and will ensure there is a fair, transparent and accessible system for reimbursing authorised out-of-pocket expenses.

Where appropriate, consideration will be given to the need to identify designated posts to manage volunteers and develop volunteering.

11. Relationships with the Volunteering Sector

The work of the local Volunteer Centres in providing leadership in the Volunteering Sector is recognised. Volunteer Centres have a primary role in promoting volunteering, providing useful information and training for organisations. (See Appendix 1)

12. Encouraging Employer-supported Volunteering

The Board recognises, values and supports the important part that their own staff who already volunteer play and will support where possible employees who are involved in volunteering or who may consider volunteering in the future.

13. Monitoring of the Policy

The Board is committed to an ongoing process of monitoring and evaluation of this Policy in consultation with all relevant parties every two years. The Policy will reflect and complement corporate objectives and the stated priorities in relation to improving health, tackling inequalities and social renewal.

14. Local guidelines

Each service will develop, monitor and review local arrangements to support the implementation of the Policy.

NHS Greater Glasgow & Clyde

Reimbursement of 'Out of Pocket' Expenses for Volunteers

1. Introduction

1.1 Scope

NHS Circular CEL 8 (2009) provides NHS Boards with guidance on the payment of out of pocket expenses to volunteers.

This guidance is based on the circular, and is intended to provide a consistent basis for the payment of expenses for volunteers who work alongside, or are under the supervision of, NHS staff as part of a range of managed voluntary services/activities. The guidance also applies to volunteers who participate in patient focus or public involvement activities, and incur expenses as a result of participating in relevant activities to which they have been invited by the NHS Board e.g. workshops, focus groups, committees, working groups.

The guidance should be read in conjunction with the Greater Glasgow & Clyde Volunteering Policy reviewed in 2007.

The circular defines an NHS volunteer as a “person who gives freely and willingly of their time to help improve the health and wellbeing of patients, carers and users of the NHS in Scotland”.

The payment rates quoted in Annex 2 attached are specified in the circular, and supersede those given in NHS Circular No. 1986(GEN) 16.

1.2 SGHD Requirements

NHS Boards are required to have a written guidance for the payment of 'out of pocket' expenses for volunteers; this should be reviewed and updated on an annual basis; relevant information from this guidance on how to claim reimbursement must be available in the induction pack for volunteers. The purpose of this guidance is to provide clear advice on the reimbursement process, which should be consistently applied throughout NHS Greater Glasgow & Clyde, to ensure that payments are made promptly and that low income volunteers are not disadvantaged.

The general principles, in the payment of travel and other expenses for volunteers, are that:

- no volunteer should be out of pocket as a result of their volunteering work; and
- reimbursement is not appropriate unless actual expense is incurred in the course of the volunteering.

A sample claim form is included at Annex 1.

NHS Greater Glasgow & Clyde Reimbursement of 'Out of Pocket' Expenses for Volunteers

2. Travel Expenses

Volunteers are encouraged to use public transport to and from their place of volunteering where possible. Reimbursement of the costs of travel tickets, car parking charges, toll charges, bus, underground, ferry or taxi fares (where prior approval for use of a taxi has been given) should also be made.

Appropriate receipts, used tickets or ticket stubs must be attached to the claim.

2.1 Travel by private motor car, motor cycle or bicycle- mileage allowances

The mileage allowances for travel by private car, motor cycle and bicycle are shown in Annex 2. There are two levels of car mileage allowances and volunteers will be advised, as part of the induction process, which rate will apply in reimbursement of their travel costs:

2.1.1 Public transport (or commuting) rate

The 'public transport rate', which is intended to cover the cost of fuel only and not motoring costs, is payable where volunteers use their private motor vehicle to commute between their home and the place of volunteering but are not required to use their car for their volunteering business; this includes volunteers commuting in relation to PFPI activities.

2.1.2 Standard mileage allowance

The 'standard mileage allowance', which takes motoring costs such as insurance and road tax into account, is payable when volunteers use their private motor vehicle for volunteering business e.g. volunteer drivers; or volunteers who use their own cars in direct connection with their volunteering and therefore incur business miles.

With effect from 1 April 2009 the mileage rates, which accord with the current guidelines from the HM Revenue and Customs, shown in Annex 2 should be paid to volunteers who:

- drive their own private motor vehicles (including motor cycles) as defined below in connection with their volunteering but subject to the limitations set out elsewhere in this Section; and
- meet the insurance requirements set out below.

2.1.3 Car parking

On production of appropriate receipts, car parking costs can be reclaimed for the duration of the time spent volunteering.

2.2 Motor vehicle insurance

Volunteers involved in managed volunteering activities using their private motor vehicle or a vehicle owned by a spouse or partner on volunteering business must satisfy certain insurance conditions in order to claim the motor mileage allowance. It is the responsibility of volunteers to ensure that their vehicle insurance policy covers the risks set out below. NHS Greater Glasgow & Clyde staff are asked to remind volunteers of this responsibility.

NHS Greater Glasgow & Clyde Reimbursement of 'Out of Pocket' Expenses for Volunteers

Motor mileage allowance will be payable only if the insurance conditions are fulfilled. A standard letter for the volunteer to send to their insurance company is attached at Annex 4. Any costs levied by an insurer for providing this may be reclaimed by the volunteer.

Volunteers using their private motor vehicle, or a vehicle owned by a spouse or partner, on volunteering work must have motor vehicle insurance without financial limits covering the following:

- bodily injury to or death of third parties;
- bodily injury to or death of any passenger; and
- damage to the property of third parties.

In addition the insurance policy must specifically cover the use of the vehicle on volunteering business. This also applies in the case of a vehicle owned by a spouse or partner.

2.3 Volunteers' liability

It is strictly prohibited for a volunteer to drive any vehicle as part of their volunteering duties within NHS Greater Glasgow & Clyde unless they have a valid driving licence. It is the responsibility of the volunteer to ensure their licence is valid.

2.4 Reimbursement Conditions

Volunteers will be reimbursed actual expenses only. Volunteers should not be given set amounts (or flat rate payments) or additional payment that do not reflect actual costs. The payment of 'flat rates' can constitute a wage; in this situation the organisation could be liable to pay the volunteer for all the time worked. In addition, this could be regarded as a contract by a tribunal or similar body giving volunteers the same rights as employees, and could have the potential of requiring NHSGGC to comply with minimum wage legislation.

Any payment over and above out of pocket expenses would also be regarded as income by HM Revenue and Customs, and would therefore be taxable. Any potential personal tax liability arising from the payment of expenses will be the responsibility of the individual claimant. Such payments may also put volunteers' benefits at risk; volunteers concerned about reimbursement payments affecting current benefits claims should contact their Job Centre Plus for further advice.

Volunteers should be aware that 'out of pocket' expense claims should be made to one organisation only. If it becomes apparent that a volunteer is making the same claim from another organisation reimbursement through NHSGGC will be withdrawn, and repayment of expenses overpaid may be sought from the volunteer.

Asylum seekers are also affected, with strict Home Office guidelines advising that anything beyond remuneration for actual expenses will be construed as payment for illegal work.

3. Subsistence allowances

3.1 Volunteers entitlement to subsistence allowances

Subsistence allowances are designed to cover out of pocket expenses spent mainly on meals, other minor personal incidental expenses and accommodation. This will include reimbursement of expenses incurred by volunteers when they attend training events in connection with their volunteering work.

Annex 2 gives details of the current subsistence rates which are payable, where appropriate, with effect from 1 April 2009.

3.2 Day subsistence allowance

Day subsistence allowance, which is not required to be supported by receipts, is payable only when the volunteer meets the prescribed minimum periods detailed below and the volunteer has to purchase a meal, or meals:

- day subsistence over 5 hours payable for a period of volunteering of more than 5 hours but less than or equal to 10 hours; or
- day subsistence over 10 hours for a period of volunteering of more than 10 hours.

The day subsistence rate is not payable when meals or meal vouchers are provided.

3.3 24 hour subsistence allowance

The 24 hour subsistence allowance covers a period of up to 24 hours and includes expenditure on overnight accommodation and breakfast, lunch and dinner and personal incidental expenses (e.g. personal telephone calls). Bed and breakfast costs must be supported by a receipt attached to the travel and subsistence claim.

3.4 Staying with friends allowance

If an overnight stay is necessary in the course of the volunteering and the volunteer resides overnight with and in accommodation provided by friends or relatives, irrespective of the circumstances, they can claim the Staying with Friends Allowance. This allowance is a 24 hour rate designed to cover accommodation and all meals in the 24 hour period starting when the journey commenced. Receipts are not required to be produced to support a claim for this allowance.

Volunteers are also allowed to claim the personal incidental expenses allowance in addition to this allowance if expenses are incurred.

NHS Greater Glasgow & Clyde Reimbursement of 'Out of Pocket' Expenses for Volunteers

4. Communication, consumable and other expenses

Volunteers may claim reimbursement, where appropriate and on production of appropriate receipts, for:

- the costs of ink cartridges, paper, labels, envelopes, telephone calls and stamps specifically incurred in the course of their volunteering work (on production of appropriate receipts);
- childcare expenses (up to a ceiling equivalent to the current hourly childminding rate paid by the relevant local authority), or other carer expenses, incurred while undertaking their volunteering duties can be reclaimed. Volunteers in specific roles are eligible to claim these expenses. Typical placements are where the volunteer role is specifically designed to support health care initiatives.
- additional expenses incurred while undertaking volunteering duties by volunteers who have a disability may be reclaimed.

5. Payment process

5.1 Claims must be made on the official expenses claim form (Annex 1).

5.2 Formal evidence of expenses incurred i.e. receipts for travel, meals refreshments and car parking must be provided for all expense claims.

5.3 All expense claims should be made within one month of being incurred, and should be passed to the nominated individual responsible for authorising expenses claims received from volunteers.

5.4 Where the nominated individual is unable to approve the expense claim due to incomplete or insufficient information, or where expenses are deemed ineligible, the expense claim will be returned to the individual for amendment with the details of the reason for return. The volunteer may then resubmit the claim.

5.5 The payment of expenses is normally made by cheque; however, if it is preferable for the volunteer, arrangements can be made for payment to be paid by BACS transfer directly into the volunteer's bank accounts. Volunteers must complete the form at Annex 3 if they wish to be paid by BACS.

5.6 To ensure there is equal opportunity for participation in volunteering activities there may be a need, where small amounts of expenses are involved, to pay out of pocket expenses in cash on the day of the activity (usually through local Cashier's Office) and in some cases in advance. Advances may also be paid by cheque or by BACS.

6. This guidance will fall due for review in April 2011, or at any time prior to that date, if required by SGHD guidance or instruction.

Please complete in BLOCK CAPITALS. All expense claims must be agreed in advance. You must provide receipts and attach them to this form.

Dear Sirs

I intend to undertake voluntary work for NHS Greater Glasgow and Clyde and I will use my vehicle to carry out voluntary duties and may carry passengers as requested. I will receive a mileage allowance for these journeys to contribute to fuel and the running costs of my vehicle. Such expenses will be in accordance with the HM Revenue & Customs tax free rate per mile. I estimate the number of miles driven under this voluntary basis will be xxxxx per year.

I should be grateful if you would confirm that my existing policy covers me for such volunteer driving. Please complete the reverse side of this letter and return to me.

Please also confirm that my insurance policy contains a clause indemnifying NHS Greater Glasgow and Clyde, with which I am a volunteer, against third party claims arising out of the use of my vehicle for such voluntary work.

Yours faithfully
