

Core brief

Friday, 09 September 2016

Introduction

This issue details a Scottish Government press release on health and social care targets and highlights data amnesty month.

Health and social care targets to be reviewed

Former Chief Medical Officer Sir Harry Burns has been appointed as the independent chair of the national review into targets and indicators for health and social care.

The review will work with service users, staff, professional bodies, and providers, to ensure targets and performance indicators lead to the best outcomes for people being cared for, whether in hospital, primary care, community care or social care services. Click here to read the full press release.

data • amnesty • month
SEPTEMBER 2016

This month sees the launch of our first Data Amnesty Month, an amnesty for everyone whose information is currently out of date on the global address list (GAL) click here to read more.

Are your contact details up-to-date? Click here to check