

Core brief

Monday, 24 October 2016

Introduction

This issue of Core Brief provides information on staff shortlisted in the Scottish Health Awards 2016.

Scottish Health Awards 2016

The national Scottish Health Awards 2016 shortlist has been announced.

NHS Greater Glasgow and Clyde have eight nominees shortlisted. This is a fantastic achievement and we would like to congratulate them all.

Our finalists are:

- Jade Rose, Healthcare Support Worker, Acute Oncology Assessment Unit, Beatson West of Scotland Cancer Care – Support Worker category
- Teams involved in Data Driven Quality Improvement in Primary Care, Effective Feedback to improve Primary Care and the Evaluation and Implementation Group (in partnership with other NHS boards and Universities) – Innovation category
- Nursing Team working in the NHS Centre for Integrative Care, Gartnavel Hospital – Care for Long-Term Illness category
- The NetWork Team – Care for Mental Health category
- 72 Hour Discharge/Intermediate Care Development Team – Integrated Care for Older People category
- Community Hospital Discharge Team – Integrated Care for Older People
- David Wylie, Podiatry Service Manager – Leader of the Year category
- Suzanne Byrne, Staff Nurse, Intensive Care Unit, Queen Elizabeth University Hospital – Nurse Category

The awards ceremony will take place on 3 November in Edinburgh.

Are your contact details up-to-date? Click here to check