

Core brief

04 July 2019

Introduction

This issue highlights the sustainability campaign, congratulates Sarah Everett who won the Patient's Choice award at the RCNi Nurses Awards and encourages staff to complete their equal opportunities information on eESS.

Sustainability Action

Sustainability Action is the new environmental awareness campaign that has been developed by NHSScotland. This replaces Ecosmart throughout NHSGGC.

The campaign works to promote sustainability and environmental awareness, while encouraging staff to be more sustainable at work; the campaign covers all major areas of sustainability. A key driver for the campaign is to promote environmental awareness days; such as World Environment Day and Climate Week, and to update staff on energy and sustainability projects.

Check out the Sustainability page on StaffNet for more information and look out for the latest news in staff newsletter, emails and social media to find out how you can take part and help improve sustainability in NHSGGC.

RCNi Nurse Awards

Congratulations go to Sarah Everett who scooped the Patient's Choice Award at the RCNi Nurse Awards last night.

Govan Health Centre practice sister Sarah is the driving force behind the Men's Shed, which addresses men's isolation and loneliness and the lack of positive activities for men who no longer have anywhere to go each day.

eESS

The new electronic Employee Support System (eESS) allows staff to update their equal opportunities information. The Staff Disability Forum is encouraging people to fill this in so that we can improve our equality monitoring. This information is completely confidential but it will enable our organisation to be more responsive to our diverse workforce.

Are your contact details up-to-date? Click here to check