

Core brief

Tuesday 30 July 2019

Introduction

This issue bring you news about GRI and the Chairman's Awards.

GRI named in top 100 in the world

Today Health Secretary Jeane Freeman congratulated staff at GRI on being named as one of the top 100 hospitals in the world. She met staff including clinicians, nurses, porters, domestics and allied health professionals to celebrate this fantastic achievement. Click here to read more.

Chairman's Awards

It's the last couple of days to get your entries in. The closing date of 31 July is fast approaching To nominate your colleague click on the link below for more information.

The poster features the NHS logo in the top right corner and a 'Celebrating Success' badge in the top left. The central text reads 'Nominate NOW' in large, bold letters. Below this, it says 'The Chairman's Awards celebrates innovation and the outstanding difference made by our staff who go that extra mile for their patients'. At the bottom, it provides the website 'www.nhsggc.org.uk/chairmansawards' and the closing date 'Closing date for nominations is 31 July'. The poster is decorated with several star-shaped cutouts containing photos of NHS staff members.