Top Tips – Play

- Observe, wait and listen to see what your child is interested in.
- Get down and play alongside them with things that they are interested in.
- Use simple language to talk about what your child is playing with.
- People games, such as peek-a-boo and tickling, are good for developing interaction and turn taking.
- Add new ideas to the play without taking over.
- Act out everyday activities to develop imagination, such as a teddy bear's picnic or building houses.
