SCS
Specialist Children's Services

Observe, wait and listen to see what your child is interested in

Get down and play alongside them with things that they are interested in

Use simple language to talk about what your child is playing with

People games, such as peek-a-boo and tickling, are good for developing interaction and turn taking

Add new ideas to the play without taking over

Act out everyday activities to develop imagination, such as a teddy bears picnic or building houses